

UNSW Business School/ Marketing Confirmation Letter

Dear whom it may concern,

6 May 2026

I am pleased to confirm that Devesh Mishra worked as a Research Intern in my Marketing AI Lab at University of New South Wales, Australia.

During his internship, Devesh supported projects focused on visual data research, web data extraction, and curation for culturally diverse marketing applications. His work involved identifying, researching, scraping, and compiling relevant datasets representing geographies, cultures, cuisines, environments, and city-level reports on scams, thefts, and other activities from various websites. This required attention to detail and alignment with research objectives.

He worked with our team, completed the assigned tasks, and made a fair contribution during the internship. Through his work, he gained practical exposure to research methodology, data curation, web scraping, information extraction, and content analysis within an applied AI and marketing context.

Devesh commenced his internship on 14th October 2025 and completed it on 22nd January 2026.
